

Site Walkthrough Guide

One common pitfall of the educational design industry is that designs are influenced by adults outside of the education system with primarily aesthetic influenced. NorvaNivel is attempting to change that narrative by using facilitator/learner influenced, research-based designs.

Collaborations between educators, learners, therapists, architects, designers, and marketing specialists have allowed us to embark on a fresh adventure; creating the most efficient effective designs available for all educational spaces.

The following Site Walkthrough Guide - highlights 4 topics for observation. Using the Site Walkthrough Guide, we can reimagine how educational spaces function to meet the needs of all learners and facilitators.
